Industrial Hygiene and Occupational Health & Safety

Protection of worker health and safety presents complex challenges to businesses. Workers compensation costs continue to be significant business concerns. Insurance premiums rank among the highest costs to a company after wages and benefits. A strong health and safety program that emphasizes prevention of injuries and illness is the key to maintaining regulatory compliance, minimizing the impact on workers compensation losses, and reducing the potential for litigation to businesses.

By developing relationships with our clients that are based on trust, responsibility, technical expertise, and efficiency, EQM provides targeted, effective solutions to emerging, immediate, and long-term Industrial Hygiene and Safety issues.
